

Bewustmakende films bij de Chocolate Lounge

Bijgedragen door Alec Boswijk
woensdag 18 februari 2009
Laatst geupdate op zondag 22 februari 2009

Elke zaterdagavond bij de Chocolate Club van 18:00 tot 22:00
Loungen met bewustmakende films, coole muziek en superfood & -drinks.

Komende zaterdag (21 februari) met om 19:00 de inspirende film: KYMATICA over bewustzijn, ego, persoonlijke verantwoordelijkheid en het effect van angst op ons systeem.

The newest film from Ben Stewart, creator of the Esoteric Agenda. The questions that have remained timeless and profound throughout history have been all but left for dead. There have been messages left in scripture, archeological remains, shamanic traditions, philosophy, poetry, art and music. As we move closer to an apex of technological and intellectual information, we find ourselves farther and farther away from feeling any comfort or wholeness within our hearts and souls. Yet even though the concept of spirituality should have been long gone by now, we are seeing an awakening among people and a growing desire for truth.

For the first time in history we are finding that there are no sole saviors or lone prophets to guide us, but a whole race waking from a sleep that has brought this world to the brink of destruction. In a world where Apocalyptic catastrophes seem inevitable, we must look at the solutions in a whole new manner. As the latest quantum mechanics and metaphysics are just being discovered, we notice that we are not moving forward, but returning to a consciousness that the ancient shamans, mystics and sages have left for us.

It is a new age. An age for responsibility and stewardship. And as we begin to look for answers in the world within, the world without will reflect. In this new age, we will discover that we are all one mind, one organism, and one spirit. We are the savior we have been waiting for…